OTING DISTRICT CHANGE HALTED

Attorney General's Opinion Upsets County Plan to Redistrict Now

No further action to increase the number of voting precincts in Lake ounty will be taken until next summer. This became certain last week result of an opinion rendered by Actorney General Kerner to the effect that the county board of supervisors is without power to act on the matter.

it this time. the division of the precincts having in excess of 800 voters by means of circuit court mandamus to the board, but Kerner asserted this would not be valid. Twenty-three precincts are lovolved in the proposed split-up. Their division would increase the total from 78 to 101.

Declaring that the board could no helatedly take such action in January, after having failed to do anything ncerning the matter last June, Ker-er quoted the law as follows:

If for any reason said county board illafail in any year to redivide or readjust said election districts or eleclion precincts, then said districts or precincts, as then existed, shall con-tinue until the next regular, June meeting or adjourned meeting in the month of July said county board shall rerelivit or redivide said election dis-tricis and precincts in the manner herein required." Kerner's opinion was sought by the board because it was feared that opponents of the move might contest the legality of the April election if the redivision were effected at this tion thus: time. Doing Something About It

The dairy farmers of the country face trouble-and plenty of it. In most of the big markets, conditions are disrupted for one reason or another. The actions of "chizelers"-price troubles-difficulties of reconciling opposed points of view of different factions involved in producing and distributing milk: . These are but a few of the problems the farmer faces.

But these farmers aren't sitting down and letting nature take its course. They are doing something about their troubles-and doing it through cooperative marketing organizations. What they are doing was detailed in many speeches made at the recent annual meeting of the National Cooperative Milk Producers' Federation.

A modern agricultural cooperative isn't just a machine, operated under a staff routine system; for gathering together the products of its members and disposing of them in some profitable market. It has to practice diplomacy. It has to consider and weigh any number of problems, social and economic. And it is the best and soundest instrument the farmer possesses for working out his difficulties.

* * * * * Expensive Window Dressing

The technique used by the Tennessee Valley Authority to disguise the actual cost of its power producing and distributing activities is illustrated by its work in development of river navigation. A very large part of the cost of dams and other enterprises is charged off to navigation, this apparently reducing the investment for power.

In the light of that fact, some testimony recently given by Major Rufus W. Putnam, a former member of the army engineers and now a consulting engineer of Chlcago, before the three-man federal court which is hearing the suit filed by a number of private utilities against the TVA, is of exceptional interest. According to this expert, the TVA's "unified plan" for the development of the navigation facilities of the Tennessee River system will cost the federal government over $425,000,000 more than the anticipated commerce on the stream for the next 30 years will justify. The witness amplifies this statement, with abundant statistical proof.

So here is the navigation development myth exposed! As in practically all ventures of this type, navigation is simply part of the window-dressing-and it is expensive window dressing indeed for the taxpayers, to further socialism in the United States.

Cooperation Must Be Made Real (From the Philadelphia Inquirer)

The insistent need at this moment, if re-employment is to be speeded up and a disastrous slump averted, is mutual faith on the part of business and government. Moves toward the establishment of auch mutual faith may now be in progress, but they will have to be more vigorous if they are to count, . The primary essential is that Government's pledges to industry shall be so forthright and concrete as to strike away all fear of further punitive legislation against business. If this fear is wiped out and the Government acts for tax revision and for a balanced budget there need be no doubt that industry will throw its full strength into recovery. Business can not succeed in providing jobs and wages unless it has the support and protection of sn inderstanding Government. Government on the other hand, can not maintain its stability and discharge its duty to the underprivileged unless it enjoys the partnership of strong, profitable industry. It is unthinkable that Government and business, both so vitally concerned with the welfare and prosperity of the United States, should long remain in a conflict of purposes that retards production and recovery.

America has all the essentials for unparalleled prosperity. It has untold wealth in farms, in industry, and in natural resources of all kinds. It has energy, initiative, imagination and lofty Ideals. "Business and Labor"

Robert Louis Stevenson once said that we live not by bread alone but principally by catchwords. It does seem true that in our time we are making certain words and phrases carry more weight than is good for them.

Consider the word combination: "business and labor." Almost daily we hear this phrase used as if to love one were to hate the other. We often hear about public officials "leaning toward labor" or "making overtures to businesa." Most of us know what is generally meant by these phrases, yet to many they tend to set up an antagonism that does not really exist,

One need not think very deeply to understand that the interests of labor and business—that is to say, the employer-are identical; that in the long run their interests do coincide because they are both parts of the same body politic. What hurts one hurts the other; what is good for one is also good for the other.

We need to be wary of such abstractions that set up friction between these common interests, lest the phrase

TELEPHONE RATE ADJUSTMENTS will go into effect in Illinois

IN JANUARY

THERE has been a readjustment of various telephone charges throughout the state of Illinois which, it has been estimated, will save the public about $2,600,000

The Illinois Bell Telephone Company is arranging to notify all subscribers about the changes. Details of the new rates also are on file in every Bell Telephone Business Office in the state.

During the last few years, our business has improved. However, there have also been large and unavoldable increases in expenses, due chiefly to new taxes and higher payrolls, representing principally wage increases.

Nevertheless, the Company is putting the new rates into effect in January, in the hope that our husiness will continue to improve, and that increased use of telephone facilities will offset, partially at least, the immediate losses in revenue caused by the lower rates.

Some of the new rate classifications will offer definite service improvements to customers, as well as savings. It is hoped that these will make telephone service of even greater value to the people of Illinois.

Lottery Champions Promise Painless Taxation, Charities

Leaders in the National campaign for legalized lotteries, left: Congressman Edward Kenny, of New Jersey, and Mrs. Oliver H. Harriman, New York social leader, shown against background of foreign lottery and sweepstakes tickets which they declare are now sold in every state.

Washington—The fight to legalize lotteries and sweepstakes as a means of painless taxation is in hill swing again, and its proponents are urging legislators in Washington and in forty state capitols to give serious consideration to the proposal. Many foreign countries, they point out, are deriving immense revenues from American participation in lotteries revenues which might well be turned to charitable and tax purposes at home.

The fact that lotteries are not legal has, they declare, merely served to prevent American government or charitable participation in their profits while lotteries run by other countries and sold here, notably the Irish Hospitals Sweepstakes, supervised by the government of Monaco, and the lotteries conducted by the French Government, and others, took last year over sixty million dollars out of this country. Mere are now sold in every state in the United States. The above mentioned sweepstakes, the survey showed, are sold in every state in the Unica and, while a large percentage of their declare are now sold in every state.

Background of foreign and sweepstakes goes to charitable causes in their parent country, where important blocks of their tickets are sold.

Proponents of legalized lotteries, among them Mrs. Oliver H. Harrima, New York social leader, are urging that, since anti-lottery groups thave been unable to prevent as a bould be made legal and our own government and charitles should profit from these. They contend that legalized lotteries will do away with racketeering in bolicy, numbers, baseball, football and numerous other pools which neither government nor charities derives any benefits.

The type of lottery and sweepstakes is the survey of the activities of foreign lotteries in the United States. The above mentioned sweepstakes, the survey showed, are sold in every state in the Unica and, while a large percentage of their decrease of the French government.

Here's Something Really Worth SHOUTING ABOUT. - . !

We Mean the way Classified Ads in the News have brought quick results to hundreds of satisfied users at a cost of only "two-bits - 25c one quarter part of a dollar."

REMEMBER?

Tucked away in the attic-and the garage -and the cellar-and in the hall closet, you have dozens of articles "too good to throw away" which are doomed to the rubbiah pile unless you DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT. They ARE worth money; but not if they are simply stored away until they rot, rust and corrode to uselessness. In our classified columns you can find a purchaser who is looking for just what you have-who'll be willing to PAY for it.

ADVERTISE IT SELL IT NOW!

SHE DID

The lady to the right has had on inspiration. She has just thought of that electric heater stored in the attic. For 25 cents she can advertige it in The News. John Doe will see the ad and snap it up-and both will be mighty pleased with the deal. . He'll save money-she'il get some new hose. Now YOU think! What do YOU have you'd like to get rid of-profitably?

Welcome Home!

This gentleman is gladly greeting the return of a prodigal five-spot, which had been tied up in some discarded tools he'd given up as "junk." But an ad in The News proved to him that there was money in the old "junk" yet.

A CLASSIFIED AD IN THE NEWS WILL PAY YOU DIVIDENDS-WHETHER YOU'VE LOST SOMETHING, WANT SOMETHING, OR HAVE SOMETHING TO SELL. YOU'LL BE PLEASED WITH THE PROMPT RESULTS OF AN AD IN

Wiaconsin Dells May Be

Fifty Million Years Old The Dells of Wisconsin has survived at least fifty million years, according to a writer in the Chicago Tribune. In some of its canyons one can stand on pre-Cambrian granite and see the ripples cut into solid masses of rock by the Cambrian ses, which covered North America, Europe and Aslo during the first period of the Paleozoic era, the earliest geologic age recording life. on earth.

The rhythm of the Paleozoic era was one of alternating submergences and emergences of the land. But when the shallow seas subsided for the last time, the granite foundstion of the Dells region was built high with sandstone.

After two more geologic ages had run their course, the Pleistocene age packed in cold storage more than half the world, including all of Wisconsin except the southwestern corner. But miracles were at work under the ice cap. And when the "great thaw" came there was the Wisconsin river cutting its southwesterly way toward the father of waters through rugged sandslone cliffs. Thirty thousand years of water, wind and weather have wrought great changes in those cliffs, many of which have assumed welrd and fantastic shapes. But the same dark river reflects the rich reds, yellows, purples, browns and greens of the craggy bluffs and verdant upper

Three Tried and Tested Coffee Cake Recipes

Coffee cake is not just another colfee cake, after you have tried these luscious examples.

Upside Down Coffee Cake 1/2 pound dried apricots

1/3 cup melted butter 1/3 cup brown sugar 2 cups flour

1/2 teaspoon salt 4 teaspoons baking powder

1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup shortening l cgg

11/8 cups milk Pour melted butter over cake pan

(an 8-inch square is preferable), spreading thoroughly over sides and boltom. Cover sides and bottom with the brown sugar. Cook apricots in enough water to cover, until they are tender. Place half apricots, with the round side down on the sugar. Cake

Sift flour, baking powder and sugar and salt together, and add the shorten-ing, blending well. Beat the egg and milk together and add to the flour mixture. Pour into pan and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for about 45 minutes. Turn out of pan and serve Coffee-Cinnamon Coffee Cake 1 cup lukewarm water.

3 tablespoons salted shortening 1 egg, well beaten 1 cup lukewarm coffee

2 cakes compressed yeast

2 teaspoons salt 6 tablespoons sugar 51/2 to 6 cups flour.

Solten yeast in lukewarm water; add coffee, melted shortening, and egg, then sugar and salt and sufficient flour to make a dough stiff enough to knead on lightly floured board, kneading, dough until smooth and elastic. Cover with moist, warm cloth and allow dough to double in bulk. Knead down, and again allow to double in bulk. Turn out on lightly floured bread board. Roll out in sheet 1/4 inch thick. Spread with melted butter and sprinkle thickly with sugar and cinnamon, using two teaspoons of cinnamon to each cup of sugar. Roll as jelly roll. Cut with the salad dressing. Add shrimp, salt, sharp knife in half. Put each half in paprika and vinegar. Turn into a wet well greased baking pan, and cover mold and chill. Serve on a bed of poisons by making them bitter, biting with warm moist cloth. When doubletine and cut into slices. Garnish or otherwise noxious to all normal with lemon wedges. Serves 4. for about 20 minutes. Makes two medium sized coffee cakes.

Variation: After rolling you may cut slices 1/2 inch thick for rolls, Bake the same.

With Doug Sallisbury out of the line-up, Murrie's Service Station team failed to click against the lowly B. B. Sweet Shop quintet and lost its fourthround contest in the Benton A. C. loop last Friday 30 to 21. To make the defeat even more humiliting, it was the first one administered by the Sweet Shop aggregation in two years.

Edith Wolfe's Tavern gained a commanding position in the title race by winning its second one-point victory in as many weeks, tripping the Sahine Foodsmen 25-24 to maintain its unblemished record:

Fielderest elub chalked up a 19 to 18 win over Sam's Barbers. Sallisbury's absence, combined with the fine play of George Strouplans, new center for Sweet Shop brigade, seemed to demoralize the usually effective Murrie quintet. Taking advanage of the uninspired play on the part of the Antioch team, the candy kitchen quintet played the finest haskethall it has yet shown.

The local outfit will have to exhibit a much better brand of ball against the up-and-coming Fieldcrest Club in its next contest if its glimmering title hopes are to be revived. They will meet in the opening game of this week's round, which will be played on

Sequoit Varsity Five Beat Alumni Cagers by Count of 30 to 27

Antioch High's current crop of cagers took both ends of a basketball double-header played with the A. T. H. S. Alumni Monday night, winning the "fightweight" curtain-raiser 26 to 17 and the "varsity" battle royale 30

Until their play collapsed following some late substitutions the Alums held a slight edge in the second game. As ate as the final quarter they held a 24-23 lead, but insertion of "new blond" into the Old Timers lineup proved fatal.

Ela, Niles Center and Grant are satis-Wednesday rather than Thursday fied that they are the "class" of the Northwest conference. No one can: deny that they stand at the head of the basketball class at present-for so the league standings show them, each withnut a deleat to date.

But as Antioch was tumbled from the 1.000 per cent rung last week by Niles Center, two other teams picked themselves up after early tumbles to re-establish themselves as possible championship contenders.

Leyden and Palatine, victims of Niles Center and Ela respectively, seemed to have hit their stride as the holiday vacation interrupted hostilities, and may be expected to give any and all of their opponents a real battle from here on in.

Antioch apparently lacks the punch that makes champions, but in losing to Niles Center the Sequoits showed flashes of really fine basketball and should make a very respectable show-ing during the remainder of the sea-

Libertyville and Warren rank about even with Antioch, as potential trouble-makers but hardly as title contenders. The rest of the Northwest schools have rather weak teams this year and seem headed for pretty dull seasons. No doubt, however, they'll account for a few of the inevitable up-

League play will be renewed on January 7. Antioch's first contest of the new year will be against Grant, on the latter's court.
